THIS MONTH IN THE ROTARIAN

Watch your mailbox for February's issue of The Rotarian magazine, which features a 19-page photo essay entitled A Day in the Life of Rotary. By photographing themselves and each other, Rotarians helped create the mosaic of a worldwide day of service and fun.

Among the other articles inside are:

Rotary Stories - When she was 15, author Jennifer Grotz won a Rotary club scholarship that helped launch her literary career.

Bea Shall Overcome - In her South Carolina youth, Rotarian Beatrice Brown Rivers signed a petition that snowballed into one of the historic cases that became Brown v. Board of Education, which ended legal segregation in U.S. schools.

Up Front - Christopher Muller, Beijing travel agent

Up Front - Operation Warm (clothes)

Insider - Pakistan fights polio

Insider - Building bridges through humanitarian service

METS LINE ITEM EXPLAINED

Members may notice a $15 assessment on their bill for METS. (Medical Equipment Transport Service). This is a recurring District-mandated annual assessment that has been in effect for four or five years. Through administrative oversight it hasn't been billed to our members since October 2008.

More METS information will be disseminated soon -- our program for Feb. 23 is the METS director, Linda Herdina.

THE OBJECT OF ROTARY

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

FIRST. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

SECOND. High ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

THIRD. The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

FOURTH. The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service.
